

Biography: Kristin Simpson

Kristin is a co-founder and staff member at The Beach School, a democratically-run independent school in Toronto, Canada that is based on the Sudbury model of education. She is interested in educational alternatives, community-building, and opportunities for people of all ages to make meaningful decisions about their own learning.