

Biography

Mike McCabe teaches Mathematics Education and Health and Physical Education in the Faculty of Education of Nipissing University. In addition he teaches in the Aboriginal Teacher Certification Program. He received his Ph. D. from the Ontario Institute for the Studies in Education at the University of Toronto. His research includes developing programs and strategies to include parents in the formal education.